SUPERVISORS BACK PENINSULA HARBOR IMPROVEMENT PLAN

That the future development of South San Francisco and of the entire San Francisco Peninsula were dependent upon harbor improvement was the sentiment expressed in a resolution adopted by the Board of Supervisors of San Mateo County at its meeting Monday. A copy of the resolution will be sent to Col. Herbert Deakne, engineer of the First San Francisco District.

The resolution follows:

"Whereas, under the date of June 18, 1923, at its regular meeting, this board of supervisors did unanimously pass a certain resolution subscribing to, and with many other associations and organizations did petition Col. Herbert Deakne, district engineer of the First San Francisco District, to make a study and physical survey of South San Francisco Harbor and the shoal off South San Francisco, together with estimate of cost of harbor improvement and maintenance and of the removal of the shoal and the establishment of a channel depth of 30 feet in said harbor and over said shoal:

"Whereas, said survey has been made by Colonel Deakne, and it is the understanding of this board and its representatives that a recommendation is to be made by him concerning the matters prayed in and by said petition hereinbefore referred:

"Now, therefore, be it resolved by this Board of Supervisors as follows:

"That it is the sense of this board that the industrial economic progress and future development of the City of South San Francisco in San Mateo county, California, and of the entire San Francisco Peninsula are dependent upon the realization of water development as initiated and prayed in and by the petition hereinbefore referred to; and

"Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution certified by the county clerk and ex-officio clerk of the Board of Supervisors be forwarded to Col. Herbert Deakne."

Persons having vacant rooms available are being urged to rent them and rooming houses and hotels throughout the city are being closely watched for vacancies.

The vanguard of steel workers arrived early this week. The men, the majority of whom are skilled metal workers, come from the steel centers of Ohio, West Virginia, and elsewhere in the East.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Wilcox, prominent residents of Santa Clara county, were killed when their automobile was struck by a Southern Pacific passenger train at the crossing between San Bruno and South San Francisco shortly after 8 o'clock last night.

Their machine, a large sedan, approached the crossing just as a train appeared around the curve. Wilcox, it is said, failed to heed the signals of the flagman.

Deputy Coroner S. Nieri of South San Francisco took the bodies in charge and notified relatives of the couple in Santa Clara.

FAMOUS OLD INN OF SOUTH S. F. IS SOLD

County Tax Collector McSweeney Buys Regli Estate Property

A. McSweeney, San Mateo county tax collector, has purchased the Regli estate property in South San Francisco.

The Twelve Mile House, also known as the Toll House, which is a part of the property, was a stopping place in the old days where a chicken dinner and other forms of food and refreshments awaited travelers after a dusty buggy or bicycle ride from San Francisco.

Here also, former United States Senator Ralston made his third change of horses when racing the Southern Pacific train daily from his home in Belmont to San Francisco.

McSweeney, realizing the rapid development of the west section of South San Francisco, has subdivided the property, leaving the Twelve Mile House and garden intact. The Twelve Mile House property fronts on what was formerly known as the San Mateo turnpike, at the intersection of the South San Francisco and San Mateo car lines.

60TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED

The sixtieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Taylor of this city was celebrated at the home of their daughter, Mrs. J. C. Eikerkotter, 319 Spruce street, Sunday.

The Taylors were married in Ohio on April 6, 1864, immediately leaving for California, where they made their home in Redwood City. After a number of years they moved to South San Francisco, where Taylor engaged in the coal, wood and grain business, from which he retired a few years ago.

Mrs. Henry Haaker and Mrs. C. W. Meyer are granddaughters of the couple, and with their families gathered at the Eikerkotter home. During the day a large number of friends from different sections of San Mateo county called to offer their congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Taylor.

Mrs. Taylor celebrated her 81st birthday on Wednesday at the home of her daughter.

RESOLUTION APPOINTS COMMITTEE TO CONFER ON AVAILABLE SITES

Step Is One Towards Making South
San Francisco Attractive
To Home Seekers

A resolution appointing a committee to recommend a suitable site for a public park in South San Francisco was unanimously adopted by the Board of City Trustees at a meeting in the City Hall Monday night. It is believed that a public park would be of great benefit to the residents of the city and prove an attraction to home seekers. The trustees, it is understood, are impressed with the necessity of making South San Francisco as desirable for homes as possible, in order that it may bid for the favor of commuters who are now employed here, but whose families and homes are elsewhere.

The resolution, which was drawn up by City Attorney Coleberd, and which appoints a committee of three to take up the park case, follows:

"Resolved by the Board of Trustees of the City of South San Francisco that a committee consisting of Trustees F. A. Cunningham, A. J. Eschbach and H. Scampini be, and the same here by is, appointed to recommend a suitable site for the purpose of a public park within the City of South San Francisco and to ascertain and report to this board the price for which such land may be purchased and the terms upon which payment may be made."

The committee will confer with the South San Francisco Land Company at once as a step toward carrying out the purpose of the resolution. It is said that several sites for parks are under consideration. One of them would provide space for a baseball diamond.

A bid of $61,781.60 won for Charles J. Lindgren, Burlingame contractor, the right to the contract for pavement work here, it was found when sealed bids were opened by City Clerk Daniel McSweeney. W. Grier, Oakland; Pacific States Construction Company, Jasper Stacey, San Francisco; A. G. Ralsch, San Francisco; G. W. Cushing, Richmond; Eaton & Smith, San Francisco, and W. W. Thompson, Redwood City.

PACIFIC COAST STEEL CO. GIVEN PUBLICITY IN FUEL OIL ARTICLE

The advantages of oil over coal as a fuel are "almost innumerable," says an article entitled "Black Magic," which appeared in the last issue of the Union Oil Company's bulletin and which contains photographs of open hearth furnaces and oil burners in operation at the Pacific Coast Steel Company's plant in South San Francisco. The photographs show a battery of open hearth furnaces. It is explained that the maximum with a fuel oil burner for firing, temperature attained is about 3000 degrees Fahrenheit.

First and foremost among the advantages of oil over coal, the article states, is its greater heating power, weight for weight giving from 30 to 50 per cent more steam. A ton of oil occupies about .96 cubic feet of storage space, compared to some '60 cubic feet for the amount of coal required to do the same work.

Another "Thief of Time"

To the commuters who are employed in plants in South San Francisco, but who do not live in this city—this message is directed:

Time lost in commuting is lost motion and lost energy. In a single day, it may mean the loss of only one hour. But one hour a day going to and from work in the 307 working days in a year means the loss of over 37 eight-hour days!!

And they are days for which the commuter is never repaid—no one could compensate for their loss. For they are taken from man's justly earned period of rest and recreation.

GOOD ROADS AID DIRECT SYSTEM OF MARKETING

Statistics of the use of good roads by farmers for direct marketing to consumers show the great advantages hard roads possess for the man who makes his living directly from the soil. It has been shown that the longest dairy route profitable over a good dirt road is 15 miles, while over a hard road the dairy farmer can operate profitably a route with a total length of 40 miles. This applies to every truck farmer, poultry raiser, and farmers in general with produce to sell direct to the consumer. Moreover, the 15-mile trip over an earth road is only practicable part of the year, while the 40-mile route over the hard road is good all the time, regardless of the season.

With hard roads, all country producers of foodstuffs can make profitable daily trips to the city and back from a distance of 20 miles, creating a producer-to-consumer area with a radius of 20 miles around every city.

Not only the farmer connected with a direct market, but he who is connected by a hard road with a railroad shipping point, reaps steady profit from good highways. In many states it has often happened that fruit has been allowed to rot and fertile fields have gone uncultivated because impassable roads have made profitable sales out of the question. Good roads mean steady profits and constant demand for farm products at good prices.

CHRYSLER SIX DRAWS PRAISE IN TESTS HERE

Scores of South San Francisco people saw and rode in the new Chrysler Six, which was demonstrated here Monday by Dumond & Nolan, proprietors of the Reliance Garage and Chrysler and Maxwell dealers. Many compliments were paid to the new car, especially to the hydraulic brakes, the accessibility of all vital parts, and the vibrationless motor. The car was operated at speeds varying from the slowest possible to the maximum, on hills and over all kinds of roads, and responded in a way which seemed to please witnesses.

Since the first gas engine was developed, vibration has been the one thing that the engineers have constantly endeavored to reduce. Vibration is the enemy to long life of anything mechanical, and the reduction of vibration has meant lengthened life to automobile motors and running gear, not to mention the more pleasurable result to the passengers.

Walter P. Chrysler, who was in San Francisco during the last automobile show, related some interesting features regarding the experiments carried on and the instruments developed by Chrysler engineers to record and reduce vibration.

"We found," said Chrysler,

ORANGE AND BLACK BEST LICENSE PLATES

There are 50,000 readily discernible and legible color combinations for auto license plates, or enough to supply every State in the Union for 143 years. The Princeton colors of orange and black, which a number of states have used for auto license plates, make the most satisfactory combination from the police department's point of view that have ever been used. This is so because of the great visibility of orange and the legibility of the black lettering against the orange background.

DESSIN BROS. BOOST EXIDE

No matter what make of car you have there is an Exide made especially for it, declare Dessin Brothers of Burlingame, Dodge car and Graham truck dealers for this vicinity, who handle this battery.

"At the present low first cost of the dependable Exide," the dealers state, "the purchase of one will prove a decided economy from the day it is installed."

"that the best instrument for recording vibration was a vacuum tube device operating off the rear end of the crank shaft while the engine was mounted on the testing block. An electric spark timed by the distributor was caused to jump through this tube to an electrode on the front end of the crank shaft while the engine was running. With the motor running smoothly the spark jumping through the tube was regular in action, but with even slight vibration in the motor the spark was erratic and had a wavy or snake-like action. With this instrument it is very easy to detect the vibration period in a motor. Theoretically, it is not possible to eliminate vibration, but by very careful balancing of the crank shaft, cam shaft and reciprocating parts, and bearing mounting which eliminates crank-shaft whip, the vibration period may be eliminated and the motor caused to run so smoothly that vibration is not noticeable at any speed.

"We have made tests with the Chrysler motor which show elimination of a vibration period. An ordinary lead pencil can be balanced on end on top of the motor or on one of the fenders while the motor is running and will stand on end without quivering at any engine speed."

First 3 Months of 1924 See 10,000 Motorists Nabbed For Recklessness

DODGE BROS. CAR DEALERS MAKE RECORDS

Materially increased factory capacity—production averaging about 900 cars daily—and an unusual demand for their new line of cars have enabled Dodge Brothers dealers to consistently break all records for delivery of cars to customers since December 1.

In December, January and February retail deliveries to customers were 32 per cent in excess of any similar quarter in the history of the business. Following this, retail deliveries in March have been over 4000 each week, which is the first time this figure has been reached so early in the year. Each week's deliveries established a new high record.

Factory production in December, January and February totaled 54,521 cars, 25 per cent greater than the same months of last year, which was Dodge Brothers peak for those months. Daily production in March is averaging virtually 900 cars per day.

Dodge Brothers are able to compile accurate sales information because of the co-operation of their dealers throughout the United States and Canada who send in weekly reports of all retail deliveries made to customers. Through these reports they have an accurate, detailed record of exact conditions existing in each sales territory. Their calculations are based upon the number of cars actually consumed by the public, as they believe this to be the only true indication of sales conditions.

AUTO MECHANICS COURSE OFFERED

Do you know what is going on under the hood of your automobile? If not, or if you have only a hazy idea of how its various parts operate, then take the correspondence course on the gasoline automobile which is conducted by the University of California Extension Division.

With the advent of spring and the long week-end trips which are the usual result, many owners are wondering whether the old bus will hit on all six for another strenuous season. For the man who works on his own car the university course is a veritable mine of information. It is not only based on one of the latest and most complete books on the automobile, but additional material in mimeographed form is sent out from 301 California Hall in Berkeley, the home of the extension division, a bureau of automobile information being maintained there for the benefit of students who have enrolled.

In seventeen assignments the course thoroughly covers such topics as the automobile engine; automobile power plants; fuels and carbureting systems; engine lubrications and cooling; principles of electricity and its applications.

The constantly climbing delivery records, coupled with increasing production, lead Dodge Brothers to believe that the first six months of 1924 will total by far the greatest six months in the history of their business.

LOCAL COURT TO BE STERN WITH SPEEDERS

Reckless drivers of automobiles will henceforth receive little mercy in the court of City Recorder Joseph Walker, according to a statement issued by that official today. Speeders and other violators of traffic laws will be dealt with according to law, and with a stern hand. Walker says it is his intention to co-operate with courts elsewhere in reducing the number of deaths by automobile accidents.

education to starting, lighting, and ignition systems; clutches, transmissions and rear axles; and differentials. The assignments are of equal value to the owner of a Ford or a Cadillac, or to the owner of a Chevrolet or a Buick. One lesson deals with common automobile troubles and their remedies. In another, the university is co-operating with the State Motor Vehicle Department in explanations and interpretations of the new State motor vehicle act.

Complete information regarding the automobile course may be obtained by writing to the University of California Extension Division at Berkeley.

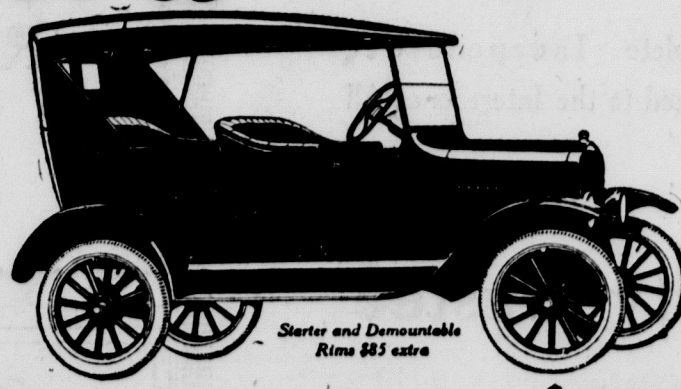

The old mango tree which marks the spot where Stanley met Livingston in 1871, is said to be dying from the effects of a cement base, which bears the date of the memorial meeting, being placed too closely around the trunk.

President Giannini will spend several weeks visiting points in France, Germany, Belgium, and England. His trip is to be literally a "flying" expedition, as plans contemplate the use of airplanes in traveling between the various continental cities.

During his stay in New York recently Giannini participated in arrangements for consolidation of the East River National Bank and the Commercial Trust Company. Plans for the merger on April 29, following the conversion of the trust company into a national bank, will be possible within 30 days, according to reports here.

Dr. A. H. Giannini, president of the East River National Bank, who was formerly vice president of the Bank of Italy in San Francisco, will head the merged institutions.

BANCHIERE VIAGGIANDO PER L'ITALIA

Il Signor P. Giannini di San Mateo, Presidente della Banca d'Italia, e' partito per Roma come rappresentante della Corporazione della Banca d'Italia al meeting annuale delle Banche d'America e d'Italia.

Il Presidente Giannini passera' varie settimane visitando parti della Francia, Germania, Belgio ed Inghilterra. Il suo viaggio e' destinato ad essere letteralmente una "spedizione volante," stante che egli opina l'uso di aeroplani viaggiando per le diverse città continentali.

Durante il suo soggiorno in New York il Signor Giannini partecipò nei provvedimenti, modalità e formalità per la consolidazione della "East River National Bank" e della "Commercial Trust Company."

Piani per la fusione il 29 del corrente Aprile in seguito alla conversione della "Trust Company" in una "National Bank" saranno possibili in trenta giorni secondo notizie locali.

RODONDI HAS NEW OFFICE

B. J. Rodondi, local real estate and insurance dealer, will move soon into his new office at 209 Grand avenue. The place was remodeled for the purpose. Rodondi came to South San Francisco in 1907, and some months later he purchased a piece of property. Since that time he has invested steadily in real estate here and has found, he says, that to do so is good business.

Shortly after coming to this city, Rodondi became a molder at the terra cotta works, and when the plant was destroyed by fire he became associated with the Enterprise Foundry until 1919. Then he went into the real estate and insurance business with E. C. Peck and now is operating independently. His home is at 609 Miller avenue.

Jim Smith isn't "just lucky"

No, Jim Smith isn't just lucky—it takes more than mere luck to own homes—consistent efforts, perseverance, determination, and thrift are home-building units. Jim Smith has applied all of these and is happy in the thought that he is a home owner.

His neighbor continues up the street to his rented apartment. He carries with him, however, a mental picture of the happy scene just left, and resolves to accept his friend's suggestion to take definite steps toward home ownership.

These public-spirited firms are interested in helping to make South San Francisco a city of more beautiful homes and to assist in every possible way those who are desirous of making South San Francisco their future home.

FLOOR PLAN

The plan of this home has proved very popular. Its neat lines give an unusually homelike exterior, particularly enhanced by the trellis work on the front walls and the treatment of the roof walls. It occupies an extreme width of 28 feet and should be placed on a lot at least 35 feet wide. The compact arrangement throughout gives all the advantages of the more pretentious houses, but at a minimum cost.
